

YOU UNDERSTAND

© RYAN GUILLEY

Only do you understand,
How many times you lent your hand,
To make sure I was alright,
Whatever I questioned in sight.

Countless hours and reassurance,
Giving me to surface without deterrence,
Everything you gave me was a secure answer,
You always did your best, not being fancier.

The horrible years that I didn't function,
Making me choose right at the junction,
I was of never made it without you,
Giving me your care, being so true.

Only do you know what it was like,
Anyone else would have told me to take a hike,
But you stayed and protected with care,
Just daily living covering my basis from fear.

I want to wipe your cries,
As you never made a remark or a sigh,
I am going to be with you,
Loving you is simple and always new.
